Video: Alan Lomax-Inspired Concert Features Northern Michigan Students

BY KRIS RILEY on April 23, 2014
Tagged Events, Music & Art, Video, Benzie County, Benzonia, Frankfort, Grand Traverse County, Kalkaska, Manistee, Traverse City

With the tunes of Alan Lomax’s 1938 recordings of Michigan folk musicians ringing in their ears, students from several Northern Michigan schools and a few singer-songwriter mentors from Earthwork Music, including Seth Bernard and Joshua Davis, joined forces to produce a concert of original folk music. The Northern Michigan non-profit SEEDS organized the collaboration as well as a performance on May 9, 2014 at the Traverse City City Opera House. Watch the video that focuses on the creative process to hear some of what the kids produced!